# features	12	6	4	7	5	8	8

The number of features has little value because the accounts are of varying lengths. However, the level of correlation has some value in looking for correspondence between the events.

Ezekiel and Revelation 20 show 7 points of correlation which is remarkable given the latter passage consists of 4 verses.

Features unique to these two passages are the presence of Gog et al, the outflowing of an aquifer from Zion to the sea afterward and a fiery judgment from YHWH.

Ezekiel and Revelation 16/19 show 4 points of correlation, even though the Revelation description is much longer than Rev.20:7-10. Points of similarity include: the animal feast; atmospheric disturbances and geological changes.
